Says the Springfield News: "Poor William, sweet William, with his button hole boquet, is deeply wounded by the gibes and quibs he is receiving just now at the hands of his own party in Congress It was agreed that another pesides him was to be the leader in the hight but Mr. Springer did as he did list year at Bloomington, when an ovation was tendered to Governor Palmer as the people rused their voices in cheers for their candidate for Governor, Bill Springer took of his hat, came to the front and stood smiling and bowing, taking it all to himself. The silly egotist could not conceive that all those cheer could be for anybody but himself Just so he crowded to the front in the congressional right, and pushed aside the chosen leader and made an object of himself it is said that the Demograts intend to notify him that his silence is more eloquent than his speech, before another contest begins. And so Mr Springer is deeply wounded in the house of his friends."

Save the Legislature Freeport (III.) Journal We do not pretend to know what the Republicans of Illinois may conclude to do, but at this time we think the general opinion among Illinois Republicans is that the first busi ness on hand for the Republicans of this State to attend to is to make it certain: that Illinois will have a Republican Legislature on joint bollot and be in condition to elect a Republican Senator to encceed Senator Farwell, and there will be ample time after that to decide upon the man if Mr Farwell desires to be his own successor we know of no reason why he may not be chosen. If, however, the Republicana of this State Convention decide to follow the example of the Republicae State Convention of 1858, and nominate a candidate of United States Secator, as that convention did by nominating Abraham Lincoln, it will be found that Governor Pifer will not be the only candulate that will be spoken of for that great honor. SENATE.

WASHINGTON beb 44—Mr Chandler, in the Senate to day rising to a quession of personal privilege called attention to the fact that Senator Call last Thursday had uttend words personally offensive to him which he had not then heard and had followed up that breach of order by changing and alding to the official report of his remarks a picagraph still more offensive. He therefore offensid a preamble and resolution stating that the Senator from Florida had charged him in debate with personal reresponsibility for the outraging of women and the murd ring of children and the destruction of the happiness of households in the south by men who were the unissaries behind him and that the Senator had, in addition inserted the following paragraph. behind him and that the Schator had, in addition inserted the following paragraph which he had not spoken. The blood of Saunders if the evidence shall show his death was in any way connected with the prosecutions in the United States courts, will rest on his conscience. The shricking shosts of outraged and murdered women and children the victims of the wild lusts are who seed in a received we all that they heaven the only object of care or concern, and and children the victims of the wild mark and passions of a race who owe all that they know of religion and civilization to the southern white people and not to the Sen-ator from New Hampshire, will disturb his sleeping and his waking hours. An Early Fire

The ewelling of Thomas Fields, the colored fruit stand merchant, caught fire this morning at 1126 North Water street, caused by a defective flue, and the roof was destroyed before the fire department, which was quick to respond to the call, could get in its effective work. The damage is over $60, insured for $300.

Deep Water on the Stage

M Fritz Ganther is in the city with assistants preparing the stage at the Grand for the production of the "A Dark Secret' drama, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The water will be 24 to 8 feet deep on the stage, occupying a space 20x60 feet, and it will remain unchanged during the entire play. The weight of the water will be 65 tons, and during the play there will be a real rain storm on the stage, something never before given in Decatur Part of the dramatic action of the piece will be near the front of the stage, with the remainder on the steamer and bosts. The plunges into the water will be something real, and everything will appear as if on the river Thames The water will be heated properly, so that those who make the daring dives will not enifer from the voluntary baths. AFTER THE WABASH

Decatui Pays an Official Visit to the Wabash at St. Louis.

To day Decatar is stirring up the Waush at St. Louis chout joining with the I linor: Central company in the expense of burling a new $150,000 to $200,000 l mon depot in Decatur. The Decatur committee went to St. Louis on the early train this morning. The gentlemen are Attorney Hugh Cres, James Millikin, W. I Wells and B O. McReynolds. They are there to interview General Manager Central two years ago, which plans have been in the Republican office since they were sent to Decatur from Chicago They were lained to the committee for use at St. Louis. The plans do not provide room on the Wabash side sufficient for the accommodation of the patrons of .

that company, and the main purpose of the visit is to receive suggestions from the Wabash general manager as to changes in the plans. Decatur wants a two-story umon depot, complete in all its appointments as to finish and conveniences. If the Wahash goes into the movement, and she cannot get out of it very easily, the depot will be a two story structure with offices for the Wabash and the other railways on the second The active interest of the Wabash in the depot anyement will be a power in bringing the Central to time. The next step of the committee will be to send eletter to President Fish, of the Himos Central, to enlist his efforts in behalf of the enterprise

Then we will wait awhile to let the efforts already put forth permeate. Surely the Central people will see that anew union depot in Decitur cannot fail to fatten their purse.

Two Nights of a Great Play

The great scenic drama, "A Dark Serat," will be seen at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday nights. This is the first time that this play has been given Stream photos are the rule at Den | in Decatur and it is the first time, moreover, that anything like it has been attempted in this section of Illinois. "A Dark Secret" is the best representation of what is known is a tank play and the performance will be one of the greatest ever given in this city. The scenery represents a section of the river Thames in England and there is introduced an actual regatta with crack oarsmen of the world competing in open shells Among these is Ed Hanlan, who won the world's championship and held it so long, and other distinguished watermen. The tank will occupy the entire stage and the

We are assured that the policy of the paper will not be changed -it will remain independent in politics Mr. Hall has been connected with the Herald since March, 1881, when he became part owner. He has given the enterprise his personal attention and has done well, so well that he is more than satisfied with the price received for his interest in the property. It is the purpose of Mr. Hall to engage in the job printing business in Chicago, to which city he will remove in the springs He will dispose of his home on West Macon street for $1000, and will sell his acapt lots. The Republican has always. had a parental interest in Mr. Hall, as he was for several years a compositor in this office, and it is gratifying to note that in Chicago Frank has every prospect of amassing a fortune in the job printing line with an old-ostablished firm on Dearborn street. Mr. Hostetler is now "monvealed the fact that anything of an agila- arch of all he surveys," and as in the past will devote all his time to the management of the paper.
